Enabling a transport system that connects New Zealand – The Ministry of Transport's purpose

We are the Government's system lead on transport. We provide advice about how the transport system needs to change to support the New Zealand economy and the transport needs of New Zealanders. Our purpose is to enable a transport system that connects New Zealand. You can find out more about the Ministry of Transport at (https://www.transport.govt.nz/about-us/)

Our values | Ngā uaratanga matua

Excellence – Kairangi Collaboration – Mahi tahi

Policy

Te Manatū Waka, Ministry of Transport provides strategic and practical advice to Ministers, monitors and supports the Transport Sector Crown Entities and works in partnership with the Transport Sector Crown Entities to ensure the transport system optimises its contribution to New Zealand citizens.

This role is part of the Resilience and Security team which sits within the Policy Group. The Policy Group is responsible for leading the provision of high-quality policy advice on many of the key priorities of the day, translating long term strategic priorities into practical policy interventions.

Resilience and Security

The Resilence and Security team is responsible for leading the policy and strategy relating to the reduction, readiness, response and recovery of the transport system to emergencies and events. It supports the Ministry's formal role as the lead agency for transport in the emergency management system, and leads the operation of the Transport Response Team.

The team is also responsible for transport security policy across all modes, and is the policy agency for the Maritime Security Strategy, playing a facilitation and coordinating role in relation to cross-agency policy issues across the maritime security domain.

Senior Adviser Position | Kaitohutohu Matua

The purpose of the Senior Adviser - Emergency Management role is to contribute to the achievement of the Ministry's objectives by providing high quality operational advice, and leading operational implementation of solutions, to emergency management and national security issues involving the transport sector.

Te mahi | What you will do

This role is responsible for:

Reduction:

 Engage with transport sector stakeholders, and assist where required, with their reduction activities.

Readiness:

- Develop and maintain the Ministry of Transport's, and the Transport Response Team's, capacity and capability to respond to events including training of Transport Response Team staff and managing staff availability rosters.
- Develop and maintain readiness documents, with respect to the Ministry of Transport's and Transport Response Team's role in responding to events.
- Engage in the development/maintenance of stakeholder readiness documents, with respect to the role of the transport sector.
- Engage with New Zealand's National Exercise Programme and organise participation of the Transport Response Team in national exercises (where relevant).
- Engage with other National Resilience System, or cross-agency, readiness groups as required.

Response:

- Support a response where:
 - o The Ministry of Transport is a Lead Agency, or
 - o The Transport Response Team is supporting the Lead Agency.
- Engage with the National Resilience System on emerging risks/issues.

Recovery:

• Support recovery programmes (for the transport sector), where required.

Lessons:

 After events or exercises, lead the 'lessons learned' process for the transport sector; and, where relevant, engage in the national cross-agency 'lessons learned' process.

The duties and responsibilities in this document are not exhaustive. The incumbent may be required to perform other work which is consistent with the nature of the role.

Hei Arataki is underpinned by the following Guiding Principles | Ngā Mātāpono:

Diversity and inclusion | Te rereketanga me te whakauru

We want our workforce to increasingly reflect the communities we serve. The Ministry welcomes and supports people diverse backgrounds including people of all gender identities, ages, ethnicities, sexual orientations, disabilities and religions. A requirement of this role is to actively support and promote our diversity and inclusion principles.

Your health, safety and wellbeing | Te hauora, haumaru me to orange

At the Ministry we expect all employees to:

- work safely and take responsibility for keeping self and colleagues free from harm.
- report incidents and hazards promptly.
- know what to do in the event of an emergency.
- ensure personal health and safety standards are adhered to when at work or offsite when working.

Performance Expectations | Mahi, he aha te mea e tumanakohia ana

We are a high performing organisation. A key part of this is being clear about roles and expectations. Te Manatū Waka's expectations of Senior Advisers are set out below. The intent is to clarify, make visible and clearly communicate expectations to ensure common understanding and consistency.

Delivery Leadership

Senior advisers work on and often have a leadership role in complex, ambiguous and sensitive work. Senior advisers are skilled at scoping a piece of work and making connections to related areas of work to deliver the result the Ministry needs. They effectively plan and manage projects, and anticipate issues before they arise. Senior advisers deliver and work with others to deliver products that are fit-for-purpose, timely, and high quality.

Self and Team Focus

Senior Advisers are honest & courageous, curious, selfaware & agile and resilient. Senior advisers focus on developing and cementing their professional skills so that they have a deep tool kit. They build capability within their team by pro-actively supporting more junior staff on core skills, stakeholder engagement, planning, and navigating through complex issues. Senior advisers model these behaviours.

Ministry Contribution

Senior advisers understand the Ministry's priorities and objectives, and contribute to accomplishing Ministry goals. Senior Advisers get involved across the Ministry. They foster a culture of learning, share their knowledge and experience, and help to challenge thinking.

Professional Capability

Senior advisers apply well-developed professional knowledge and skills to their work. Senior advisers are capable of working with minimal supervision but seek guidance on complex issues, and test possible solutions to problems. They know and use a range of techniques, models and frameworks relevant to their work, and use the most appropriate approach in a given situation.

(External) Engagement

Senior Advisers are connected outside the team and the Ministry – they are visible, valued and operate across a range of networks. Senior Advisers develop, build and share knowledge, collaborate with others, and influence the agenda. They effectively represent the Ministry's interests and are trusted advisers.
